

Painting of Emma's Garden by H. M. Guilhauman

My Grandfather was a fisherman in this quaint little fishing village on the Bay of Fundy in Nova Scotia. I spent my childhood summers in bliss living within this breath taking seaside village where I have written a collection of short stories poems and songs such as Emma's Garden. My sister Bonnie and I thus named the cottage built by my grandfather fondly after our Grandmother Emma who kept a beautiful garden.

Unwind in an authentic Maritime cottage experience and truly delightful village. This charming two bedroom restored cottage is located in the village of Harbourville ten minutes from Berwick just off Highway 101 in the Annapolis Valley. You will climb up over the north mountain with breathtaking views along your way.

The cottage sits at the waters edge with a beautiful view of the fishing boats and harbour from every window and large deck. Enjoy the sounds of summer as you recline by the water's edge or rejuvenate your spirit with a walk on the beach. A fabulous retreat for artists and writers.

The rock and pebble beach is ready for exploring and beach combing. Breathe in the sea air and listen to the tide roll in! The Bay of Fundy offers the highest tides in the world and the fishing is great. This unpretentious cottage has been completely restored and is ready for you to enjoy. The Annapolis Valley is rich in culture and history. Whether you're looking to take a step back in time, or spend a fun-filled day with the family, there are many great places to visit and lots of things to do.

A peak of Harbourville and Emma's quaint cottage that sits just before the bridge. Watch the fishing boats and tides roll in, and dream about Isle Haute in the far off distance. Walk and explore the surrounding beach with its high cliffs, caves and waterfalls. Harbourville, the best kept secret on the Bay of Fundy, considered by many to be the crowning jewel among the working fishing villages on this side of the Bay.

Its natural harbour provides sanctuary to a fleet of colourful boats and is home port to generations of fishermen and their families. And if you are lucky, perhaps you too will see the ghost ships of the three masted schooners that crowded the harbour in the 1800's. According to legend, they still sail the oceans, making port in Harbourville on the first new moon of every equinox. Others have seen them in broad daylight, appearing mysteriously from a sudden incoming fog bank.

Kim Michele

General Information

Location: Nova Scotia
Water: Bay of Fundy

Nearest Town: Berwick, Nova Scotia, 10 km
Hospital: Berwick, Nova Scotia, 10 km

Children: Yes Guests: No Smoking: No Pets: Arrange

Waterfront Property: Yes
Beach: Rock

Facilities – General

Kitchen, Living Room, 3-pc Bath
Sleeps: 4
Heating: Wood Stove

Bedrooms: 2
Parking: 2 Vehicles

Appliances: Refrigerator, Microwave, Toaster, Toaster Oven, Coffee Maker,
Propane BBQ

Other: Cutlery

Availability: June to October

Minimum Booking: Weekly rentals preferred; possible overnight stays

Emma's Garden Oceanfront Harbourville, Nova Scotia - Cottages for ...
<https://www.airbnb.ca> › Canada › Nova Scotia › Berwick